COVID-19, AMATEUR RADIO AND THE SARL

At the Council Meeting held on Wednesday 18 March 2020, the following was decided in terms of Rule 21.2.15 of the Constitution:

- a. That the National Convention be postponed until August.
- b. That the AGM and the Symposium be combined into one event.
- c. That the Budget and Subscriptions to be voted on by means of Electronic Voting (Rule 31 and 32).
- d. That members who have already paid for the 3 and 4 April event and wish to be refunded, contact Kelley at the National Amateur Radio Centre.

Further, Council decided that the preparation by clubs and candidates for the May RAE may continue at their own discretion. At the end of April, Council and the RAE Manager will make the appropriate decision regarding the RAE on 16 May based on the relevant health situation and any directives from the Government at that time. We will continue to update members in line with the latest developments.

CANCELLATION OF MEETINGS

The Chairman and Committee of the Cape Town ARC have decided to cancel the regular general meeting on 28 March due to Covid-19 concerns. The committee will, in the coming week, discuss future events and advise members and prospective guests accordingly.

The Secunda Radio Club has decided to postpone the ZS6SRC Field Week until further notice. The risks involved due to the corona virus is too big. It is for every-one's safety that this event is postponed. If you have any questions or queries, please feel free to contact Gert Botha, ZS6GC at gertb@cybersmart.co.za

CORONA VIRUS: HOW IS THE IARU ADJUSTING TO COVID-19?

Don Beattie, G3BJ provides an update on how the IARU is dealing, as of 19 March, with the restrictions now in place to slow the spread of COVID-19. On the IARU Region 1 site he writes that the ITU has cancelled some meetings, postponed others and converted still others into E-meetings with no in-person dimension. ITU Headquarters in Geneva is not accessible to visitors until 17 April at the earliest. IARU representatives are adjusting their plans accordingly.

The largest amateur radio gathering in Europe, Ham Radio in Friedrichshafen, Germany, is still scheduled for 26 to 28 June and plans are going forward for a two-part IARU stand, including a dedicated one for youth. Whether the event will take place is unknown at this time. The IARU Region 1 Executive Committee was scheduled to meet on 17 to 19 April. A series of virtual meetings will be held instead.

IARU Region 2 was planning workshops on Emergency Communications and Satellite Communications in Trinidad & Tobago on 30 and 31 May but has announced that the workshops will be held online instead. Interest and registrations have surged since the announcement. These workshops will be held in English but preparations are underway for workshops in Spanish to be held later.

IARU Region 3 has cancelled its first Youngsters on the Air (YOTA) Camp that had been planned for Rayong, Thailand, in early October.

Reminder: World Amateur Radio Day, April 18, is just a few weeks away! Help us celebrate amateur radio's contributions to society, the 95th anniversary of the founding of the IARU and that amateur radio is the best way to practice social distancing!

As a result of the UK government's recent advice on social distancing, the RSGB HF Contest and VHF Contest Committees have decided that, with immediate effect and until the end of June 2020, they will no longer accept multi-operator contest entries for any RSGB

Contest. Single operator entries from shared stations will also not be accepted, unless the station is being shared by family members living at the same postal address. In early June they will decide if the IOTA Contest and other events can go ahead as planned.

We will try to do it via 80 m from 10:00 CAT on 28 March using 3,640 MHz or there about depending on band conditions and noise levels. 2 m is also an option if the repeater is working. Of course, there will be a virtual bring and braai!
